

Lewis-Manning Hospice Care Trustees

1. Jeremy Allin, Chairman

Jeremy has worked as a litigation solicitor with law firm Lester Aldridge for a total of 45 years, retiring in October 2015. He was Chairman of the firm from 2000 to 2010 during which time the firm expanded from Bournemouth to have additional offices in Southampton and London. During the last 20 years of practice, Jeremy had a national practice advising providers of care on regulatory compliance issues and all contentious issues arising from the provision of care including human rights issues and employment issues.

2. Peter Brooks

Peter has had a varied career across a number of different food based industries, most recently he was Vice President for Del Monte Foods International with responsibility for the profitable performance of operations manufacturing and marketing the brand in Europe, Africa and the Middle East which required a knowledge of Human Resources, an understanding of Government Legislation and Union Negotiations. Led the Pan European MFDM campaign which featured in 11 countries in the territory. Peter played a key role in a 4 man team to conclude the MBO of Del Monte International for $375 million and floated for $450 4 years later.

Peter has been active in the local community including politics, President Poole Rotary Club 2009 and introduced a Business Partners scheme 2011. Active as a Trustee of About Face Head & Neck Cancer Charity and a Trustee of Limelight Youth Club.

3. Ann Lee

Ann is an experienced Clinical Director with a demonstrated history of working in the hospital & health care industry. Skilled in Performance Improvement, Nursing Education, Coaching, Palliative Care, and JCAHO. Ann has a strong healthcare services background with a B.Ed (Hons) Sussex University MA Brighton focused in Health Care from John Colet School Wendover Buckinghamshire. Ann has worked at St. Margaret's Hospice for 25 years, most recently as their Chief Executive Officer.

4. Timothy Lee

A graduate in Physics, Leeds University. Tim worked in the IT industry for 36 years with International Computers Ltd (ICL). Strategic contributions included the transformation of ICL from a computer manufacturer to an IT services provider and a change in marketing approach from a product-led to a market-led company.

Upon retirement Tim relocated to Dorset and was a Board Member of Bournemouth University for 12 years, the last 5 years as Deputy Chair. Tim had oversight of the development of the University into a world-class higher education institution and gained unrivalled experience of governance in the not-for-profit sector. Tim was awarded an honorary doctorate for his services to the University.

5. David McDonald

David is a Chartered Engineer, a Fellow of the IET and has over 30 years' experience in leadership roles. Until recently, David was Managing Director of a Defence Communications company, delivering systems and solutions to armed forces around the world. David's passion lies in making a difference, he runs his own consulting business, transforming the thinking and behaviour of business leaders to develop strategies for business and personal growth. His operational experience, leading businesses of up to £60m, and his grasp of key figures are a great asset to the Lewis-Manning Hospice Care Board of Trustees.

6. Jeremy Lune

Jeremy worked in the commercial retail sector for 17 years, gaining a wide range of management experience in companies such as Sainsbury's and House of Fraser before moving to the charity sector in 2003, joining CLIC Sargent (Young Lives vs Cancer) as Head of Trading. As part of the Senior Fundraising Team, Jeremy gained considerable experience of generating income across a wide range of streams and gained a Certificate of Fundraising after completing a course at UWE. He is currently Chief Executive of The 1959 Group of Charities and Cards For Good Causes Ltd, where he works closely with a Board of Trustees in collaboration with over 200 UK charities and more than 5,000 volunteers.

Trustee of the Prospect Place Conservation Area Trust -which is a charity formed by residents to help protect and improve the conservation area where I live, through education, community and infrastructure projects.

7. Rev Jane Burgess

Jane graduated from London University with a Bsc (Hons) in Nursing Studies in 1984 and went on to work in oncology and then palliative care in a hospice setting. While working in the hospice, Jane trained as a counsellor and then moved to a large church in Bath to lead the pastoral work there, which included a counselling practice. Jane is an ordained priest in the Church of England and is currently Rector of the Parish of Corfe Mullen.

8. Ian Marshall

Ian is a chartered accountant who has worked for most of his career in banking and insurance. From 2008 to 2018 he was a senior advisor at the Bank of England and, for the last three years of that period, was also a specialist advisor to the Treasury Select Committee on European insurance regulation. On leaving the Bank of England, Ian was appointed chair of a new Banking start - up, JN Bank UK. Subsequently, JN Bank became the first Caribbean owned bank to win a full UK Banking Licence when it was awarded its licence in December 2019.

In addition to his business life, Ian has always had a close involvement with charities and was for nine years Hon Treasurer of the children's charity Barnardo's. In Africa, he worked as a volunteer for a microfinance charity and subsequently established and funded a charity in Malawi to support emerging businesses. Ian remains a trustee of two other UK charities.

In the area of health, Ian was for six years a director and chair of the audit committee of the Poole Hospital NHS Foundation Trust and was then appointed a trustee of the Lewis Manning Hospice in 2017. He is Chair of the Finance Committee of the Hospice.

Ian was awarded an OBE in the 2019 New Year's Honours list for services to business, charity and health.

9. Chris Palmer

Chris's career spans 30 years and covers both the creative and technology industry. He started his career working in London bureaus, where his responsibilities included organising the studio workflow, checking artwork for digital output and conversion. Following a stint on the service side he moved to the agency side and spent a period producing annual reports. This culminated in Chris becoming Head of Production for various London agencies. Chris joined AdMedia, as their Director of Operations where he managed the Operations Department, encompassing Production, IT and Media Logistics, supporting a team of over 50 people. Chris is now the owner of the award-winning Poole based business AnyTech Solutions and has started a new venture in the world of social media in the form of Ping Pong Social.

10. Emma Starmer

Emma is a Senior Employment Law and HR Advisor at Lester Aldridge. She is a Chartered Member of the CIPD and a CILEX Member – Advanced Paralegal. Emma has worked in a variety of HR generalist and managerial positions for many years, including holding the positions of Senior HR Business Partner and Head of HR. Emma has a wide range of People skills and experience, including handling complex employee relations cases, recruitment, performance management, graduate assessment programmes, policy work, disciplinary, grievance, appeals and redundancy processes. Emma is also a trained Mental Health First Aider and sits on her employer's Equality and Diversity Committee supporting new initiatives and best practice.

11. Dr Jackie Dominey

Jackie spent 26 years as a GP practice partner in Birmingham and a GP trainer from around 1996 until 2018. From 2004 until 2018 Jackie was a hospice speciality doctor, and taught medical students and doctors at a Marie Curie Hospice in the West Midlands. Jackie worked for two years at John Taylor Hospice in Erdington and as a Macmillan GP Advisor Midlands/Central South West England and GP clinical lead for end-of-life care at Solihull Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG).

Jackie moved to Dorset to become a salaried GP in Bournemouth and also completed an eight-month contract at Weldmar Hospice in Dorchester, working on the inpatient unit and teaching GP trainees.

12. Tim Goodson

Tim has a wealth of experience in the healthcare sector. He is an experienced NHS Board Member, System Leader, Company Director and qualified CCAB Accountant, with a proven track record of supporting and advising Boards. He has led a transformational clinical service review attracting capital investment and was accountable for a £1.6bn health delivery budget. Tim is a respected Chief Executive Officer and Director of Finance and is currently Executive Officer at the Dorset GP Alliance, having been CEO at Dorset Clinical Commissioning Group for 9 years and System Leader at Dorset Integrated Care System for 4 years.

13. Lewis Barr

Lewis-Manning Hospice Care has brought on board Frettens Solicitors' Marketing & Commercial Director Lewis Barr, as a member of the Income Generation and Marketing Sub Committee (IGM) to the Board of Trustees. The voluntary role provides expert marketing, digital support and advice to the IGM Sub Committee and the Head of Marketing & Communications. Hospice CEO Clare Gallie advised, "We are so pleased to have Lewis on board in this voluntary capacity. He has an outstanding reputation for the work that he does at leading law firm, Frettens Solicitors and has an amazing depth and breadth of marketing knowledge and skills."